ROBBER SLAIN BY KENTUCKY MERCHANT

Shot and Killed by John Albritton as He Was Leaving His Store At Pryorsburg.

Paducah, Ky., Dec. 17.—Opening fire on two robbers who had relieved him of a gold watch and several dollars in cash, John Albritton, aged 60 years, a prominent retail groceryman at Pryorsburg, Graves county, early tonight killed one of them and the other is reported to have been captured several miles distant. The dead man is supposed to be Charley Clark of Metropolis, Ill., as a letter found in his pocket bore this address. Both robbers were disguised as negroes. Albritton secured his pistol and fired as the robbers were leaving his store. He emptied the pistol at them. The dead man's partner ran and disappeared in the darkness.

Neither of the robbers returned the fire, although the dead man had a pistol which was taken by his partner after the former had fallen.

Legend of the Lincoln Imp. Have you ever heard the story of the "Lincoln Imp?" Listen, and I will tell you about that wicked little sprito.

In the eastern part of England there is a quaint old town named Lincoln, or Lincum, as it was called in olden days. This town, which is hundreds of years old, is built on a hillside, and what do you think is on top of that hill? A beautiful cathedral! One day, a long time ago, the devil let loose some of the little demons to play. One of them thought it would be great fun to get into the cathedral and make mischief. So he slipped away from the others and entering the church he ran down the aisles, and after tearing up the prayer books he broke the two great candlesticks which were on the altar, and did ever so many other wicked and naughty things. Suddenly he heard the sound of music! It was the organ playing and the choir singing for vespers. The music enchanted the little devil and he remained quiet for so long a time that he finally was turned to stone, and there he has stayed ever since. You may see him to this day, perched high on the columns of the choir. This is the legend of the "Lincoln Imp."—The Churchman.

KENTUCKIAN IS BACK; THOUGHT DEAD LONG AGO

"Bob" Breckenridge Blows In On An Old Schoolmate at Springfield, Ill.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 18.—A man who said he was Robert Breckenridge, son of the late W. C. P. Breckenridge, for twenty years a member of Congress from Kentucky, yesterday walked into the office of Secretary of State L. G. Stevenson and declared that he was the man who disappeared twenty-three years ago while going to Europe in a ship that was wrecked. Mr. Stevenson last night said he identified the man as Breckenridge, his youthful friend, and disclosed the story of a soldier of fortune told by the man. Breckenridge's parents died in the belief that their son was drowned when the ship went down in May, 1891.

The man told Secretary Stevenson a marvelous story of travel and adventure that circled the world. He said that he had fought with the Allies during the Boxer troubles in China, with the Boers in Africa and with the Federals in Mexico. He told of gold mines owned in Africa, fortunes made and lost in Australia and of business reverses that had made him a Mexican mercenary soldier.

The Breckenridge family in Kentucky was advised of the man's return last night.

Upon his arrival here, although greatly changed in appearance, Secretary Stevenson says he recognized Breckenridge at once. His father and former Vice President Adlai Stevenson, father of Secretary Stevenson, were lifelong friends.

"We spent our vacations together and there is no doubt but that it is Bob Breckenridge," said Secretary Stevenson last night.

Long Missing.

So far as known here he had not been heard from for nearly twenty years, when it was reported that he had slipped as a sailor on a ship which was later wrecked. His brother, Desha Breckenridge, is in New York at this time.

TELEPHONE OPERATOR HEARS WOMAN'S CRIES

Aid Is Rushed to Scene Where Negro Is Found in Attempt to Get Money.

Sapulpa, Okla., Dec. 18.—Kate Nurvell, a telephone operator at Mounds, seven miles south of here, was at the switchboard today when an annunciator dropped. Miss Nurvell plugged it and called, "Number, please." There was no answer and she started to disconnect when she heard a woman's voice say: "Don't! I'll tell you where it is."

Alarmed, Miss Nurvell called the police, who went to the house of Fred Allen, a hardware dealer, and found a negro choking Mrs. Allen because she would not tell him where she kept her money.

In her struggle she had pulled down the telephone receiver. The negro was captured.

JOHNSON'S FIGHT RETURNS $1,019,000 TO GOVERNMENT

Controller of Currency Holds District of Columbia Owes That Huge Sum.

Washington, Dec. 17.—The Controller of the Treasury rendered a decision in the District of Columbia case today, the effect of which will be to restore $1,019,000 to the United States Government. He decided that the District owes a debt to the Government for $586,000 advanced to the District as interest on certain bonds of 1877, together with accrued interest on this sum. The total amount of the original debt and interest thereon for thirty-seven years is calculated to be $1,019,000. The Controller's decision resulted from a movement initiated by Representative Johnson, of Kentucky, chairman of the house committee on the District of Columbia. The decision was rendered to the Secretary of the Treasury, who, it is assumed, will recommend that Congress enact legislation providing for the return to the Government of the sum specified.

Had It Figured Out.

The attention of the tourist in northern France was attracted to the following notice: "Pasture your horses here. Short-tailed horses, fifteen cents a day." On inquiring about the difference of price, the farmer remarked that anyone ought to know that, and explained that a short-tailed horse, had to chase the flies with his head, and while he did so he could not eat, while a long tailed one, not being thus handicapped, naturally ate a great deal more.
